1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the claimed lumen 26 and the top and bottom lids now claimed must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-16, 18, 20-21 and 23-24 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The now claimed removable top lid and removable bottom lid are not shown in the drawings nor described in the specification so as to render their structure definite.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1, 6, 9-10, 18, 20 and 23-24 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saul (4,071,064) in view of Halleck (3,314,194) and Dahlson (2003/0047474). Saul discloses a closed container system comprising a body

Art Unit: 3728

(2) defining a body lumen having a base and a top, a removable top lid (4), a removable bottom lid (3), and a subcontainer (1b) to contain a live plant. Halleck shows a closed container system comprising a body (40) and a subcontainer (10) containing a plant and a growing medium (22), with a lid or divider (27) to cover the subcontainer, the lid having a planar face and a second lumen (at 38). To modify the subcontainer of Saul employing a lid covering the subcontainer would have been obvious in order to protect the growing medium from ambient effects, as disclosed by Halleck. Dahlson discloses employing water-retaining hydrogel (disclosed aqueous gel) to nourish a living plant. To modify the closed container system Saul employing hydrogel as disclosed by Dahlson would have been obvious to serve as a plant nourishment medium, as suggested by Dahlson.

As to claims 6 and 18, Saul discloses a transparent body.

As to claim 9, Dahlson discloses a hook (96).

7. Claims 2-5 and 11-16 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claims 1 and 10 above, and further in view of McKenzie (3,973,355). McKenzie discloses (Figures 10 and 11) providing an opening defined by a tapered lumen (30 or 20). To modify the closed container system of Saul, Halleck and Dahlson employing the tapered lumen shape of McKenzie would have been obvious in order to provide access to aqueous gel through a lid portion. The exact shape of the second lumen would appear to be an obvious matter of choice and degree.

8. Claim 7 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Van Zyl (4,075,786). Van Zyl discloses a transparent subcontainer (12) for a plant. To modify the subcontainer of the prior art combination employing the transparency teaching of Van Zyl would have been obvious in order to allow viewing of the interior of the subcontainer.

9. Claims 8 and 21 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claims 1 and 10 above, and further in view of Chadwick. Chadwick discloses plant food added to a hydrogel to nourish a plant. To modify the structure of the prior art further employing plant food in the hydrogel would have been obvious in view of Chadwick in order to nourish the plant.

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-16, 18, 20-21 and 23-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. With respect to McKenzie, Halleck already discloses a second lumen, the additional reference to McKenzie being to provide a shape. In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness by combinations of references is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971).

11. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
